Advanced Strategies

Bringing Peaceful Practices to Your Classroom

This training provides attendees with practical, useful strategies for working with children and families who have experienced trauma. Using best practices, science and a social-emotional framework, we look at how we can best help children (and their parents) build resilience. We also explore our own professional framework to help us uncover and explore ways we can take our work with children and families to the next level. Participants should already understand basic information related to ACES and trauma's impact on the brain, body and behavior. This is a self-paced, online, 1-hour course
