RESILIENCE PRESENTATION SERIES

HOPE- Healthy Outcomes from Positive Experiences

APRIL SCOTT, M.A., ED.S, IMH-E®

RACHEL HANSON, M.S., IMH-E®

KIMBERLY LADD, C.P.S.

Research has shown that Positive Childhood Experiences (PCEs) help children grown into healthy, resilient adults. April Scott, Prenatal, Infant and Early Childhood Program Manager at Centerstone, along with her colleagues, Rachel Hanson and Kimberly Ladd, will discuss HOPE- Healthy Outcomes from Positive Experiences framework, a gain frame that can be applied to the promotion of the four building blocks of PCEs. In this training, the speakers will explain the science of HOPE, the connection between HOPE and health equity, as well as how to incorporate HOPE into the work environment by shifting mindsets toward a strength-based approach.
