THE 9TH ANNUAL BARBARA GAY LECTURE

Responding to Childhood Trauma to Facilitate Posttraumatic Growth with Richard G. Tedeschi, Ph.D.

Distinguished Chair, Boulder Crest Institute for Posttraumatic Growth

Professor Emeritus, University of North Carolina

This presentation will focus on a framework for understanding how traumatic events can lead to positive change. The different types of posttraumatic growth will be explored, along with how this process occurs. Using case examples, we will talk about how we can play a role in the lives of others and help to facilitate posttraumatic growth for others.
