Please join leaders from local city governments for this invitation-only, half-day workshop.

Cities around the U.S. are striving to understand and respond to ground breaking research documenting the high prevalence and impact of adversity. Issues such as substance abuse, violence and homelessness, are unfortunately common, and powerfully impact the well-being of our communities.

Please join other Valley of the Sun city leaders for this important discussion. Learn about efforts underway locally and ways cities around the U.S. are working to combat the effects of trauma to build thriving, resilient and prosperous communities.
