

Thursday, May 12, 2016
8 a.m.-5:30 p.m.
John M. Clayton Hall
Newark, Delaware

Elder Abuse and Exploitation Conference

Recognize
 red flags of abuse and exploitation

Understand
 roles, concepts and available resources

Promote
 justice and advocacy for older individuals

A multidisciplinary conference for professionals, advocates and the community

Elder abuse is a complex and multifaceted problem, for which this conference seeks a dialogue of integrated solutions, approaches and strategies. Topics will include:

- Multidisciplinary approaches
- Elder justice and advocacy
- Trauma-informed care
- Aging services network
- Late life depression
- Financial exploitation
- Prevention
- Telehealth
- Delaware Adult Protective Services (APS)
- Health care provider role
- Legal and professional ethics
- Durable powers of attorney
- Invisible epidemic
- Criminal justice system interface
- Financial institutions and prevention

Featured presenters

Elizabeth Loewy, general counsel, EverSafe, and former chief of the New York County District Attorney’s Elder Abuse unit. Ms. Loewy successfully prosecuted the complex and highly publicized financial exploitation case involving philanthropist and socialite Brooke Astor.

Philip C. Marshall, grandson of the late Brooke Astor, Mr. Marshall continues to share his grandmother’s story in the greater cause of elder justice.

Rita Landgraf, Secretary, Delaware Department of Health and Social Services

Karen F. Stein, Associate Professor, University of Delaware, School of Public Policy and Administration

Who should attend?

- Physicians
- Nurses
- Counselors
- Social workers
- Attorneys
- Financial planners
- Caregivers
- Anyone interested in learning more about elder abuse

For more information

Visit www.pcs.udel.edu/elderabuse, write to continuing-ed@udel.edu or call 302-831-7600.

Sponsors and exhibitors are invited for this important event. Visit pcs.udel.edu/elderabuse/sponsors for more information on how to become a sponsor.

Conference offered in partnership with the Center for Drug and Health Studies and the Division of Professional and Continuing Studies at the University of Delaware.