

September 28 & 29 2017

Radisson Hotel Helena, MT

There is NO greater or more complicated system than the human brain!

It doesn't take a brain scientist to tell you that adolescents can be frustrating! A teen's life is shaped by factors such as family, friends, school, and communities. But there are also powerful neurological issues at play. Neuroscience has made great strides in shedding light on the changes occurring in the teen's brains and why they behave the way they do.

Day 1 - Brain Science Day 2 - Breakout Sessions on Risky Behaviors

*Speakers TBD in Adolescents
