Transformative Justice in Education Lecture with

Dr. Carol D. Lee

Re-Thinking Race, Identity, and Opportunity to Learn:
Foundation for Transformative Education

Dr. Carol D. Lee is the Edwina S. Tarry Professor of Education in the School of Education, Social Policy, and African American Studies at Northwestern University. Her research addresses cultural supports for learning that include a broad ecological focus, with attention to language and literacy. Her career spans a 48 year history and she is also the founder of four African centered schools, including three charter schools under the umbrella of the Betty Shabazz International Charter Schools where she serves as a chair of the Board of Directors.
