Please join us for a mutual exploration and discussion of Howard Zehr's - Changing Lenses: Restorative Justice for Our Times

25th anniversary edition

Online, every other Monday 6:30pm-8:00pm beginning November 2nd

This book has served as a guide for restorative justice practitioners and community members working to create a paradigm shift in society. If we want to see reforms in the way we engage with conflict and wrongdoing, it is vital that we be open to shifting our view and explore possibilities for change.

"Our understanding of what is possible and impossible are based on our constructions of reality. These constructs can and do change. Changing these constructs requires fearlessly replacing entrenched views that no longer serve us with new ones that do."
(Howard Zehr)
