The Cost of Darkness

A Culture C.O.-O.P. Award Winning Documentary Film

This Black History Month we invite you to a four-week community dialog and film showing of The Cost of Darkness. Each week covers different socio political factors that have historically contributed to ongoing problems and root causes of inequity. Organizations and communities will be inspired to develop visions, roadmaps, and interventions with effective holistic solutions.

Sandy Holman is the founder of the Culture C.O.-O.P. and has served as a consultant to countless organizations, to help meet the needs of diverse/marginalized populations.

For further information on the documentary please contact info@cultureco-op.com or visit www.cultureco-op.com
